STILLWATER MESSENGER

A. B. EASTON, Editor.

STILLWATER:

Tuesday, - - December 6, 1864.

Rhode Island.

The home vote in Rhode Island stands, for Lincoln, 13,692; for McClellan, 8,470; majority for Lincoln, 5,222. The soldiers' vote carries Lincoln's majority up to 5,600. This is the largest vote and largest majority ever given in Rhode Island.

Death of Prof. Benj. Silliman.

Prof. Benjamin Silliman, Sr., widely known in Europe and America as a physicist of eminent learning and genius, died on the 24th ult., at New Haven, Conn., at the ripe age of eighty-four.

Lieut. Colonel of the Heavy Artillery.

A Press correspondent, writing from Chattanooga, under date of Nov. 19th, states that the three companies of the Heavy Artillery which are now at or near that place, strongly desire the appointment of Capt. Hothekiss of the Second Minnesota Battery, to the Lieut. Colonelcy, and says that the officers of the three companies, A, B and C have petitioned the Governor for his appointment to that position. We trust the wish of the men in the regiment may have its due weight in determining the action of the Governor in making the appointment.

Gen. Sheridan's Rank.—A wrong impression is prevalent in regard to the ranking position in the regular army, of this brilliant Cavalry officer. Some have the erroneous idea that he simply steps into the place made vacant by the resignation of Mr. McClellan. General Sheridan's commission and rank date from Nov. 8, consequently any one appointed previously, is his superior in rank. On the official rolls Sheridan ranks as the 5th General officer in the regular army. The four who outrank him are Lieut.-General Grant, Major-Generals Halleck, Sherman and Meade.

Guns that will throw Shells into Richmond.

The army correspondence of the Tribune, under date of Nov. 29th, says guns have been sent to the front which will throw shells into Richmond from our nearest position. The shell is inflammable to an extraordinary degree, and it is thought the rebels will be burned out with them.

Major General Pope.

The Milwaukee Sentinel says this distinguished officer, who has so worthily administered the affairs of this department for some time past, has been requested by the Secretary of War to report in person at Washington. It thinks this means that he has been assigned an active command somewhere. It pays a deserved compliment to his ability as a man and a soldier, to his brilliant achievements as a "fighting General," and the prudent policy by which, though a man of decided and radical Union views himself, he has secured the enforcement of the laws in this department without any of those difficulties which have occurred elsewhere.

The Sentinel adds: "If, as is undoubtedly the case, Gen. Pope is at last to have a command somewhat adequate to his demonstrated ability, the country has reason to rejoice. It has been an unsolved mystery to all save a few why an officer of such rare energy, brilliant talents, indomitable pluck, has been so long shelved away in such a department as this. Not until the conclusion of the war will all the facts be known, but when they are, the country will learn to admire the patience and patriotic resilience of Gen. Pope as much as it has hitherto admired his splendid fighting qualities. It may, perhaps, be out of place for us to say, even now, that Lieut. Gen. Grant has sought, from the time of his taking command of the army, to have Gen. Pope with him in the field."

The widow of the late Joshua R. Giddings died at Jefferson, Ashtabula county, Ohio, on the 15th ult.

Brown's Bronchial Troches. From the Medical Director of the General Hospital, Benton Barracks, near St. Louis, March 3, 1864.

Messrs. John L. Brown & Son, Boston Mass. "Use of your far-famed and most serviceable 'Troches' is being made in the hospital of which I have charge, and with very beneficial and decided results in allying bronchial irritation and morbid sensitiveness of mucous membrane of glottis and parts adjacent.

Twentieth—Faribault, Marin, Jackson, Watonwan, Brown, and a few unorganized counties.

Twenty-first—Third and Fourth Wards of St. Paul, and Rose and Reserve precincts.

Another Union Victory—Hood again defeated.

A portion of Hood's army made a desperate attack upon Gen. Schofield, who held a strong position at Franklin, Tenn., and was driven back in confusion, and with great slaughter. The rebels fought with the most persistent bravery, throwing themselves madly against our defences, but all to no purpose. They made eleven separate assaults, and were each time bloodily repulsed. Their loss in killed, wounded and prisoners, is estimated at 4,000, while ours is placed at 700. The rebel Col. Gordon, of the 11th Tennessee, brevet Brigadier-General, was taken prisoner. Besides this, the rebels lost Major-General Adams killed, and Brigadier-General Scott wounded.

It is reported that Hood is moving on Murfreesboro, at which point our Eighth regiment is stationed, which, if true, may give the boys an opportunity to have a hand in the fight.

From Sherman.

The Richmond Examiner of Dec. 1st, admits that Sherman will succeed in reaching the sea coast. He has crossed the only formidable barrier to his advance, the Ocoee river.

Richmond papers of a later date express the most intense alarm for the safety of Savannah, believing that Sherman is aiming to capture or destroy that city on his way to the coast.

One report places Sherman at Millen, a point about 70 miles, by railroad, from Savannah. A short time since, it was reported that from 20 to 25,000 of our prisoners had been removed from Andersonville to that place.

Richmond of no consequence.

New York, Nov. 30. Among the significant articles in the rebel newspapers is one in the Richmond Whig of the 20th, urging the little real importance to the Confederacy of Richmond. This is evidently put forth to check the shock its fall will produce.

Wood is $100 per cord in Richmond, and many families are without fuel.

Important Order.

The following important order has been issued by the War Department. It opens a splendid chance for disbanded veterans:

WAR DEPT. AND GEN'L OFFICE, Washington, Nov. 28.

Ordered, for raising and organizing a new volunteer corps, to consist of not less than 20,000 infantry, enlisted for not less than one year, to be designated the 1st corps, shall be organized in the District of Columbia, and shall be mustered on the 1st day of December 1864, and continuing until the 1st day of January next; the privates to consist of able-bodied men who have served honorably more than two years, and those who are subject to draft; the officers to be commissioned in such as have honorably served not less than two years.

Second details will be furnished transportation to Washington, and will be credited to the dist. in which they or their families are domiciled, and will be paid a bounty of $100 each. The recruits will be mustered into the service for a term of three years. Each recruit will receive $100 arrears to the end of his term may retain them as his own up to being honorably discharged.

Third. Details of organization will be prescribed by the Adjutant General. The heads of bureaus will detail competent officers for the prompt examination and organization, arming, equipping, and disciplining of the corps. Major General Hancock is assigned to the command of this corps, with headquarters at Washington.

By order of the Secretary of War.

E. D. TOWNSEND, Assistant Adjutant General.

"The Second Minnesota regiment is almost a unit for McClellan, officers and men,"—Col. George, in a speech at Mandeville.

—The buys of that regiments, after reading the speech from which the above extract is taken, naturally feeling indignant at such a base misrepresentation by their former Colonel, proceeded to take the vote of the regiment, resulting in the casting of 311 votes for Father Abraham and 47 for the little muckers. Company F did not vote. Capt. Loomis says he thinks there are only one or two McClellan men in that company.

Local and Miscellaneous News.

DROWNED.—Our community was startled and shocked on Thursday afternoon, at the news of the sudden death by drowning of Ulrich SIEGENTHALER, Jr., son of Mr. Siegenthaler of the Minnesota House. He was skating on Lily Lake, near Minneapolis, and when about 20 rods from shore, the ice, which was very rotten, suddenly gave way, and he was precipitated into the water. He had been, but a few moments previous, skating hand in hand with his sister, and it is almost provable that they had separated before the ice gave way, or she would undoubtedly have shared the same dreadful fate.

Two men—Misses RALPH and JAMES WYKE.—W. Von Hamm, formerly city Comptroller, was arrested in St. Paul about a week ago for forging and altering City Scrip, and after a long and tedious examination before Justice Mcleath, the poison was discharged.

There are three hundred and eleven persons in Ramsey county who pay an income tax amounting to $416,296, an average of $1,971 each.

FORGER OF CITY SCRIP.—Von Hamm, formerly city Comptroller, was arrested in St. Paul about a week ago for forging and altering City Scrip, and after a long and tedious examination before Justice Mcleath, the poison was discharged.

See advertisement of Mr. Sonnenberg. He has an exciting assortment of Toys for the holidays, and a general assortment of Groceries, Candy, Confectionery, &c. His oysters are ex. us, as we can testify.

The St. Paul Press of Sunday mentions the arrival of the steamer Ariel at that port, on Saturday, Dec. 3d. She came up from Prescott, bringing a small cargo of salt.

Our mild winter received a sudden check on Friday night, and the air has been decidedly wintry since. The lake, which had begun to show large stretches of clear water, has again taken on the solid and glary mantle of ice. In his frantic efforts to throw himself out of the water, the edge of the ice was several times broken, and he was again submerged. Ralph Winkler was the first to reach him, and throwing his plaid upon the ice, one end extending over the drowning, he made the most desperate efforts to rescue the drowning man. At the first attempt to reach him, the ice which supported the plank gave way, and he found himself struggling in the waters. He, however, retained a firm hold of the board, and with one arm clasping it, groped with the disengaged hand far as he could reach in the water below, and when young Siegenthaler was going down for the last time, succeeded in grasping him by the end of his fingers, but was unable to retain his hold, and the waves closed over the unfortunate man, and he was seen no more.

It required all the efforts of his brother, at this time, to rescue Ralph from his perilous position in the water—the ice being so rotten that it would give way beneath their feet; they finally succeeded in getting safely ashore. The WINKLER brothers are entitled to much credit for their desperate efforts in behalf of the unfortunate man, notwithstanding their efforts proved unavailing.

The body of the deceased was recovered next morning, and brought to his father's home. Funeral services were held at the Myrtle street Church on Sunday.

The afflicted family have the deepest sympathies of many friends in their sudden and terrible bereavement.

A CARD.—Our heartfelt thanks are tendered to those, who, at the risk of their lives, attempted to save our son and brother from drowning; also to those who so kindly volunteered their services in finding and bringing home his body; and to all who have shown their sympathy by action and speech. The loss of our good and beloved son and brother.

The afflicted family,
SIEGENTHALER.

D I E D.

In this City, on Saturday morning, Dec. 3d, in the 21st year of her age, Mrs. Lovisa S. Bromley, wife of C. A. Bromley, and daughter of Major A. Van Vorst.

She was widely known and highly esteemed in this community, where for many years she resided with her husband, a successful, efficient, father and sister, a devoted mother. The Bromley family and their friends kindred have the mortal sympathy of their friends and neighbors.

The funeral services will take place at her residence, after the arrival of expected kin.

CLUBBING WITH MAGAZINES.—To avoid any misunderstanding, we would say that we can only furnish the following list purged of all names which for any of the reasons given above, are entitled to be stricken therefrom. Of course, all those knowing themselves not subject to a draft, naturally feel unwilling upon the subject, and very many will not take the trouble to have their names taken from the list. Our city council should immediately authorize some suitable person to make a thorough revision of the lists, and compel every person who is known to be exempt, to come forward and take the necessary steps for having his name stricken off.

The Old Man Dreams.

BY OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES.

For one hour of youthful joy!

Give back my twentieth spring!

I'd rather laugh a bright-haired boy!

Than reign a gray-beard king!

Off with the wrinkled spots of age!

Away with learning's crown!

Text of life's wisdom written page,

And dash its top down!

One moment let my life-blood stream

From boyhood's fount of flame!

Give me a golden, reeling dream

Of life all love and fame!

—My listening angel heard the prayer,

And calmly smiling, said:

"I but touch thy silver hair,

Thy wavy hair hath sped.

But is there nothing in the track

To bid thee fondly stay,

While the swift seasons hurry back?

I take the wished for day!"

—Ah! trust not woman-kind!

Without love where be life?

One kiss I cannot leave behind,

I'd take—my—precious wife!

STILLWATER MESSENGER

A. B. EASTON, Editor.

STILLWATER.

Tuesday, - December 13, 1864.

Fort Ridgely Correspondence.

Result of the Election—Local and General Congratulations—The Vote of the People for War, &c.—Hopeful Anticipations of Democracy in the Tomb—Condition of the Garrison—Thanksgiving—How Observed—The Weather.

For Report, Dec. 1st, 1864.

Editor's Note:

For days past, "Occasional" has desired to congratulate you and the readers of the Messenger, not only upon the general results of the recent civil conflict between the friends and the enemies of the Government, but upon the local victories you have acquired in Stillwater and Washington county; but other matters have pressed so heavily upon him that up to the present moment he has not been able to do so. I now extend to you and the friends of the Government my hand, and most devoutly thank God that patriotism predominates in Washington county—that patriots outnumber sneaks—that the adherents of glorious Lincoln outnumber the misguided and deluded followers of McClellan—that patriotism everywhere prevails, and our country is saved. Had the result been otherwise—had McClellan instead of Lincoln been elected—the entire policy of the Government would have been changed—hostilities would have ceased for a time—a miserable and disgraceful peace would have been patched up—foreign powers would have been enlisted in behalf of the pretended Confederacy, and after all, we would have been a divided country, cut up in a few years into small and insignificant Confederacies—a disgrace to ourselves and a laughing-stock for the civilized world. Thank God for the recent expression of soldiers and civilians! That voice means war for four more years, if war is necessary for the perpetuation of the Government. The voice of those in the field—men who have sacrificed the comforts of home and family for the hardships and dangers of the field, is—come war, come pestilence, come any disaster, rather than surrender such a Government as ours. By this principle the Union soldiers propose to live or die, knowing that a peace based upon the Chicago platform would only be the commencement of war—a war which we would be compelled to bequeath to the generations to follow us. The day now dawns! Many brave boys must yet fall, but the end is near. During President Lincoln's second term, the war will be closed—rebellion will be subdued—peace will return to our homes, and our Government will stand out the proudest, the bravest, and the strongest; that the sun ever shone upon. Is not such a consummation worth a tremendous sacrifice on the part of the citizen?

And with the re-election of President Lincoln dies that miserable bastard, called Democracy—a name in our history without any substance. There was a time when foxes had holes, and birds of the air had nests; but now that purified carcass has no where to lay its head. Requiescat in pace!

Democracy is an artful dodger. I have known it for nearly twenty years past, and have always found it the same, a thing in name, but destitute of form or principle. It is now sheltered. Let it sleep its last sleep. But look out for the mourners—those followers who wear crepe on their left arm and have treason in their eyes. The next dodge will be to claim that the "Democracy" is the war party. After suffering defeats on the field and at the ballot-box, they will now find them the most ardent harpers for a vigorous prosecution of the war." May a kind and merciful Providence induce some of them to enlist "for three years or during the war"—not only this war, but the next one.

From the present appearance of our village, a St. Croix lumberman would conclude that "the logs had come down." The only difference is, that the boys are all in blue, instead of "red shirts." Our present garrison consists of Brackett's Battalion, one company Second Cavalry, one company of Infantry, (ex-rebs.) and two sections of Battery—making some seven hundred men, besides a host of women and children connected with some of the companies, which no man can number. "Occasional" thinks that some of the former can eclipse the frowns of the celebrated John Rodgers, "who was burned at the stake in the reign of Queen Anne," &c., with "nine small children and one at the breast." Whether it was John who "owned the babies," you know, is a mooted question, which I do not now propose to discuss. Who owns those in garrison is more than I know.

The garrison is still under command of Lieut. Colonel Pfleider, 2d Cavalry, whose reputation as an accomplished officer is well known throughout the State. Everything moves along pleasant.

and in order, notwithstanding Ridgely is now the most important military post in the State. Near eleven hundred troops now draw their supplies from this post.

Thanksgiving is one of those annual occasions when every person desires to be at home—especially those whose associations have heretofore been of New England origin—a day when parents and children and family friends go up to the House of God together, and then meet around the same board and mingle their joys and sorrows, their hopes and fears, their disappointments and their successes. This is an occasion, more than any other during the year, when the soldier's heart reaches out with longings for the family hearth-stone. In the few short hours of the day, though far removed from the scenes of these hallowed memories, he lives over his early life. He lives and rejoices for the time within the atmosphere of parental and family associations, and his involuntary ejaculation "God bless the old folks at home!" Yet many of our home-households have been made desolate since this "cruel war" commenced. In our own, there is more than "one vacant chair to-night." But while hundreds of thousands of us have been deprived of these social home influences, Thanksgiving has been to us a day not only of reminiscences, but a day of devout gratitude and thanksgiving. We have much for which to be thankful. Our armies have marched victoriously over near three-fourths of the enemies' territory, for which we should be thankful. Of late we have met with no serious reverses; and for this we should be thankful. Our land has been blessed with abundant crops, and our citizens and soldiers with unusual health and prosperity—just causes for devout gratitude. We should thank God that he has given us Lincoln, and Grant, and Sherman, and glorious Phil Sheridan! On the 8th of November our people proved themselves true to country, true to free government, and true to the progress of the times by re-electing Abraham Lincoln—and for this we should show ourselves thankful to the God of all blessings. And the soldiers of Fort Ridgely were thankful. Though removed from the endeavoring associations of home, every family, every company, every squad or mess had their luxuries and not a man but felt his gratitude that the affairs of our nation are no worse than they are. Chaplain Sweet delivered an appropriate discourse for the occasion, after which (all business except the usual guard duty being suspended) all enjoyed themselves in accordance with their tastes. May we all be at home to celebrate together the next national Thanksgiving.

A letter, or a gossiping call, would hardly be complete without desecrating upon the weather. As yet, we have had but little unpleasant weather. A fortnight since we had two days when the wind came whirling and thundering down upon us from the north pole with the fury of a tornado in agony. Spars us from any more such! This evening is mild and pleasant, verifying, for once in Minnesota, the declaration of Dr. Watts that "December's as pleasant as May." To-morrow the A. Q. M. will let a call for the delivery of 2000 cords of wood; and the hungry aspirants (who never enlist,) are coming into town by squads. They "Come, as the waves come, when narves are strangled, Come, as the winds come, when forests are rent."

Pardon my rambling epistle, and believe me, ever thine, OCCASIONAL.

GEN. AND MRS. GRANT.—Burleigh, of the Boston Journal, thus describes the appearance of Gen. Grant and his wife at New York:

General Grant was dressed in a new and elegantly fitting uniform of his rank. No doubt that he even does his justice. His face is bronzed, but his eye is bright. His form is slim, and his stature is a little under size, but all in fine proportion. Mrs. Grant is quiet and lady-like in her manners. She was dressed in modern traveling costume, and seemed to be in a severe parasite or economy, and is evidently not at home amid her domestic duties than in a crowd of eight-sights looking for lions. A plain straw bonnet, trimmed with green ribbon, and a large woolen traveling shawl over a gray alpaca dress, completed her costume.

The Herald's special correspondent with Sheridan says: "The army has remained undisturbed since Early made his last half-way advance, and now it appears very probable that we have seen the last rebel army in this quarter this year. Gen. Sheridan has repaired the rail-road to within four miles of Winchester, and, in case of interference by guerrillas, he has ordered the arrest of all male secessionists in the counties adjacent, and their confinement in Fort McHenry, and the burning of all hay, grain and substance of every sort, and the removal of all stock belonging to such persons."

Jeff Davis says that "the last tie is severed." Prentice says he hasn't got his last "tie" yet, and he won't be able to sever it when he does get it.

The President's Message.

The crowded state of our columns at this particular time prevents us from publishing the President's Message to Congress, as we would wish to do. It is short, clear, concise, and shows the effect which Mr. Lincoln's endorsement at the polls has had upon him, in nervous and bracing him up for the great work before him. If our Chief Magistrate has ever, for a moment, wavered, he is now past, and his tone is firm and confident. "The nation's terms of peace, (to adopt the language of a contemporary) are tersely expressed by the President, in terms with which no Northern man, who is not a disunionist, could find fault. "They can at any time have peace simply by laying down their arms and submitting to the national authority under the constitution." Who could ask for more? At the same time the President announces his determination to retract nothing, heretofore done relative to slavery. We agree with him in seeing its inconsistency in these terms. What has been done is wholly right and constitutional. In submitting to the constitution they submit to it.

The President is ominously and loudly upon the war now being waged by British pirates upon our commerce. This is well. It is better not to speak until we are ready to act. Then let it be a word and a blow, and let the blow come first. France is not mentioned in the document, but it opens with a significant intimation that the position of Maximilian is that of one of the chief tains in an intestine war, and that our Government will preserve its neutrality between the beligerents for the present.

His recommendation to Congress to end the slavery question forever, by the constitutional amendment abolishing it legally in all the States, is, however, though fully expected, the grand feature of this very important document. This is one of those sublime measures which, laying hold of an eternal truth, anchor within the veil, and links its movers forever to the Throne of God.

Steadily the great revolution for a more perfect Union and a larger liberty moves on. The President's Message is worthy of his position as the chosen commander of the hosts who are contending for Freedom and Nationality. More than this could not be said.

Local and Miscellaneous News.

The HUTCHINSONS are advertised to sing in this place on Thursday evening of this week.

COLD SNAP.—The weather has been, with the exception of a few days, very sharp and cold for a week past.

FORT RIDGEY CORRESPONDENCE.—We surrender a large portion of our editorial columns this week to a very interesting communication from Fort Ridgely by "Oscar."

SNOW STORM.—On Saturday afternoon the snow commenced to fall, quietly and steadily, but changed during the evening to a driving, roaring storm of great violence, which continued during the whole night.

CHRISTMAS BALL.—Extensive preparations are in progress for grand opening ball at the Sawyer House by the new proprietor Isaac STAPLES, Esq. Christmas day occurring on Sunday this year, the ball will take place on Monday, the day following.

ATTEMPT AT COERCION.—There has been an effort made by the wood-sawyers of this city, particularly those of the Missississippian persuasion, to form a combination among the members of that profession for the purpose of advancing the price of their wares. We are not advised in regard to their regulations, but one poor fellow, who either refused to come into the association, or violated its rules after becoming a member, got his hand bounded and his eyes considerably bunged the other day, by one of the fraternals, and the offender was arraigned before Justice LULU, to answer to the charge of assault and battery.

GODLY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR JANUARY, 1865.—This is a Premium Number. There are two splendid Steel Plates, a superior Color Fashion-Plate, and fourteen full page engravings—among which are three Robe Dresses, from the celebrated house of Messrs. A. T. STEWART & CO., of New York, and one from Deacon's Emporium. Several Crochet patterns adapted for winter wear. A Coatee Evening-dress, a novella. The latest style for Bonnets, Collars, Caps and Caps. A beautiful portfolio, printed in colors, called the "Work-Table Companion." A Tide-printed in tint, and a humorous engraving—"Scenes on the Ice." We cannot begin to enumerate the numerous illustrations, as there are about eight, all of them useful and ornamental. We can furnish the Lady's Book to our subscribers at the club rates, $2.50 per year.

A NOBLE EXAMPLE.—In these degenerate days, when skadding to Canada and other resorts beyond the jurisdiction of Uncle Sam, is so common, and when all the low-lived, contemptible scoundrels are protected by sneaks, in order to dodge the legitimate workings of the draft, it is refreshing to note, now and then, a noble and worthy exception.

A few days before the late Presidential election, three men in the town of Afton, natives of Sweden, who were liable to a draft—having never exercised the sovereign rights appertaining to American citizenship—voluntarily took out naturalization papers, in order that they might have the right, as they expressed it, "to vote for the United States." Such men, acting from deep and conscientious convictions, and being imbued with an earnest love of the best Government the sun ever shone on, never vote wrong. These men cast their votes for ABRAHAM LINCOLN!

RUNAWAY AND SMASH UP.—A horse attached to a light lumber wagon, going down Nelson's grade, on Friday, became frightened on account of the boy slitting forward against his hoofs, and like any spirited animal, under the circumstances, showed proper resentment by starting down the grade at the top of his speed. The driver held on to the reins until turning a sharp bend in the road, he was "spilled" out by the sudden upsetting of the vehicle, and the horse kept on at a thundering pace down the hill, smashing the wagon into fenders, and scattering the fragments along the road. The driver was not very seriously injured, and picked himself up in a short time, without much difficulty, but it required several days to pick up all the pieces of the smashed-up vehicle.

ANOTHER.—Yesterday morning, just as the mail wagon which goes to Taylor Falls, was about to start from the Sawyer House, the horses took fright, and started in full speed down Myrtle street, making a sharp turn at Main street, down which they continued on to the top of the hill, where they had the only occupant of the wagon, and as she had taken passage for some point upriver, she was satisfied the horses were not headed in the proper direction, and she consequently alighted. She came down rather more rapidly, perhaps, than is consistent with grace and elegance, but under the peculiar circumstances, she did as well as could be expected, and landed safely on terra firma.

An unfortunate fellow on Main street, was crossing with a horse and wagon, and the affrighted horses plunged headlong against his wagon, knocking his frail vehicle into eternal smash, and at the same time throwing themselves, by the force of the collision, flat upon the ground, where they were secured.

A CHEAP ICE HOUSE.—The following plan for constructing a cheap ice house is recommended to all who desire a plentiful supply of ice during the hot days of summer, without being obliged to depend upon the uncertain caprices of the ice man, or to those who do not live immediately upon the route traversed by the ice wagon.

"A cheap ice house may be quickly constructed in the form of a board shanty, with a good but not tight floor. Place a few inches of saw-dust on the floor, pile up the ice compactly in square blocks leaving a space from eight to ten inches all around, next to the boards, to be filled with sawdust, trodden the structure of ice is built upwards. Cover the whole with eight or ten inches of sawdust, and a six foot high (including a foot of sawdust all around), will keep ice enough for a moderate family."

SNOW STORM.—On Saturday afternoon the snow commenced to fall, quietly and gently at first, but changed during the evening to a driving, roaring storm of great violence, which continued during the whole night.

Should I repeat each fragrant blossom—

Oh, earless wind! I could all combined—

So please thy mind as Laura's bosom?

Innsent still, hence, hence and fill!

And yet—ay, stay I here hence you stray!

Leave me to seek your right to need;

Give me to seek his damask cheek,

And while this speak what thou never dreamest;

For me to lie one moment nigh

Her heart and die, were bliss supremest!

Chaff or finely cut straw may be substituted for the saw-dust, but being less perfect non-conductors, should be thick layers. Care should be taken that all the saw-dust be pressed solid, and no cavities left. An ice house with one apartment, eight by ten feet, and six feet high (including a foot of saw-dust all around), will keep ice enough for a moderate family."

STILLWATER MESSENGER

A. B. EASTON, Editor.

STILLWATER:

Tuesday, - December 20, 1864.

From Sherman.

We have news by the way of Baltic more than Sherman has captured Savannah, with fifteen hundred prisoners, after eight hours' fighting. We do not consider the report as hardly worthy of credence, but not entirely improbable.

Great Victory over Hood.

On Thursday last our beleaguered forces at Nashville, marched out and attacked the rebels under Hood, in their intrenchments, around that city, and after desperate fighting drove the enemy's left wing back eight miles, with a loss to the rebels of sixteen guns and over a thousand prisoners. On that night the right wing of the enemy was withdrawn, and he took up a position south of Nashville, which had been strongly fortified in view of a possible necessity for retreat.

But our gallant troops, elated with the victory of the previous day, renewed the attack next morning, with such determined fury, that Hood's army gave way in terrible disorder, before the relentless valor of our victorious legions. The rebels fled in disorder from the field, leaving in our hands, as the fruits of the victory, thousands of prisoners, and a large number of cannon—the latter estimated at sixty. The official report announces forty-six already reported. The prisoners will number about seven thousand.

The most remarkable fact in regard to the battle of Franklin, is the very slight loss sustained by our own army—not exceeding, it is officially stated, three hundred, in killed, wounded and missing.

Distranchising the Skedaddlers.

The St. Cloud Democrat of the 15th calls upon the Legislature, about to convene, to pass a law forever disbanding all skulkers and "skedaddlers" from the draft. It is no doubt eminently proper and wise that such a law should be passed; but a bill of that tenor, when introduced, will meet with strong and bitter opposition from the ranks of the Copperheads,—press, pulpit and legislators. Mark the prediction. Probably seven eighths of all the sneaks who have "scouted" to Canada, or other friendly climes, or who are now skulking in dark corners, and hiding in caves and dens, and in the garrets and cellars of sympathizing friends, are copperheads of the nastiest kind, and have deliberately forsaken their country in its hour of adversity. Although they have shown by their action their entire indifference to the fate of the Government, yet, such men intend to return when the storm blows over, and take their places on an equal footing, side by side, at the polls, with the honest, loyal men who have borne the burden and heat of the day.

And, as a matter of course, their friends at home, who can yet have a voice in the matter, will set up a howl of depreciation upon the introduction of a bill into our Legislature of that nature. But with the Democrat, we firmly believe, it is something which honest, loyal men—who have entered the army and those who have done their full duty at home—have a right to demand, that these arrant sneaks be not allowed to return home from their sojourn in Canada or Selkirk, or to come out from their hiding places in the woods, upon the restoration of peace, and stand beside them at the polls and deposit triumphantly the bullet which they have so basely forged."

We trust such a bill will be introduced at the approaching session of our Legislature.

Price's Retreat.

The remnant of Price's army crossed the Arkansas river, about twenty miles above Fort Smith, on the 30th ult. It is authentically reported that on arriving at the river, the smouldering discontent among the troops composing Fagan's division, broke out in open mutiny, and was only suppressed by the fair promises of Fagan himself, and a grant of furlough for the entire division until the 10th of December. All reports agree that Price did not cross the river with more than 10,000 men, not over 6,000 of whom had arms, and all were in a wretched condition. The new recruits obtained in Missouri had deserted. The farm houses along the line of march from Missouri were filled with sick and wounded, and the road strewn with dead horses and mules. Shelby was the only commander who brought off any guns; three Parrots and a mountain howitzer, the last of eighteen pieces Price took with him into Missouri. Magruder had withdrawn his forces beyond Red river, and the whole country is quiet.

Reaction in Canada.

New York, Dec. 16. A private dispatch received in this city to-day from a gentleman in Montreal, says it was reported that the money belonging to the St. Albans bank is to be restored to-day, and that there is a great reaction there. All there men in our day who are ashamed to have introduced upon the Sabbath day a patriotic subject; but they tolerate with the utmost complicity crucifixion of millions of their fellow men.

General sympathy is felt for Gen.

Sherman, who will be met at the coast, with the sad news of the death of his youngest child at South Bend, Ind. This is the second of his family thus lost during his absence in the field.

—The mansion occupied by Daniel

Webster, at Portsmouth, during the first year of his practice, is transformed into an oyster saloon. His old office is now occupied by a L'ruvian gunsmith, and the whole country is quiet.

Report of the Indian Bureau.

From the report of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, we glean that at the present time there are thirteen superintendencies and fifty-eight agencies connected with the Indian service, and these have the charge of about two hundred different tribes. The number of Indians actually reported in the tables of population this year is a little over one hundred thousand. The number of Indians within the limits of the United States is estimated at about 300,000. The whole number of schools reported is forty-seven, and the number of scholars fourteen hundred and forty-eight.

The tables show that there have been cultivated by the Indians this year, 18,987 acres of land; and by the Government, for and in connection with the Indians, 2,728 acres, producing in the aggregate, 372,200 bushels of the products of the field, an average of nearly five bushels of vegetables and grain to each of the 102,246 persons reported.

In addition to this, the Indians have made during the past season, 432,671 lbs. of sugar and 2,706 gallons of sorgum syrup. Of fish sold there were 2,067 barrels; furs valued at $87,587.

The amount of wealth in individual property owned by Indians is put down at $1,851,404. With regard to the condition of the Indian Trust Fund, no important changes have been made since the last report.

The Rebel Incendiary.

The following advertisement appears in the Richmond Whig of the Sub- "To all who are in command—The fall of New Orleans is to the work we're ly on New York, makes it necessary for the broth- erhood to meet and concert measures for more decisive execution of the great retaliatory duty they have up to us. Our own men have been de- stroyed in violation of all rules of war, and we must make out ruthless enemy feel the weight of our just avengement in this case, if we can do it effectually. You are therefore ordered to meet in this city, by delegates from our several associations in Virginia, North and South Carolina; at 8 o'clock, on the evening of the 15th instant, for the purpose of doing what we can to help forward the cause of the South."

You are therefore ordered to meet in this city, by delegates from our several associations in Virginia, North and South Carolina; at 8 o'clock, on the evening of the 15th instant, for the purpose of doing what we can to help forward the cause of the South."

We trust such a bill will be intro- duced at the approaching session of our Legislature.

pleted his task of wheeling a barrel of oysters from Providence to Boston, on pounds, and he was six days on the route. He sold his oysters at a dollar apiece, and thus made a speculation out of a foolish election bet.

—Gen. Sherman's father-in-law, Thos.

Ewing, is now in Washington, and expresses great confidence that "Custer will come out all right." This is the family appellation, abbreviated from his middle name, Tecumseh. The General, by the way, was married in Washington, when his father-in-law was Secretary of the Interior, he then being captain in the regular army.

—A rebel correspondent at Florence,

South Carolina, states that there are 16,000 prisoners in the stockade there, and that
